1. Introduction

At the celebration of the centenary of the founding of the Communist Party of China (CPC), Xi Jinping put forward for the first time the great spirit of party building and gave a profound interpretation of it. Among them, "adhere to the truth, adhere to the ideal" is one of the important contents of the great spirit of party building, which has important historical origin, theoretical value and practical significance. To inherit the great spirit of party building, we must carry forward the spiritual character and value pursuit of upholding truth and ideals.

"Upholding truth and upholding ideals" means upholding the truth of Marxism, the great ideal of communism and the common ideal of socialism with Chinese characteristics, which embodies the Truth-seeking spirit and value pursuit of the CPC. Since its birth, the Communist Party of China has clearly written Marxism on its banner and established the realization of communism as its highest ideal. Over the course of its century-long journey, the CPC has always upheld truth and ideals, kept to the right direction, and worked hard to bring happiness to the people, prosperity to the country, and national rejuvenation. "The belief in Marxism, socialism and communism is the political soul of Communists and the spiritual pillar that can withstand any test," Xi said. ^[1] The light of Marxist truth and the light of communist ideal glow together, making the COMMUNIST Party of China continue to grow stronger.

2. Truth guides the way and inspires power

Marxism is a powerful ideological weapon for mankind to understand and transform the world, and a scientific theoretical guide for the COMMUNIST Party of China to build and strengthen the Party and build a prosperous country and a strong country. The Communist Party of China established Marxism-Leninism as its guiding ideology, which means that the Communist Party of China chose scientific truth. MAO Zedong once pointed out, "From its very beginning, our Party has been based on the theories of Marxism-Leninism, because this doctrine is the crystallization of the most correct and revolutionary scientific thought of the proletariat of the world." ^[2] The taste of truth is so sweet. Throughout its journey, our Party has never wavered in its firm belief in Marxism-Leninism or abandoned its persistent pursuit of communism, no matter in good times or bad. Countless Communists with blood and life to adhere to the "beheading does not matter, as long as the truth of the" pursuit. Revolutionary martyr Fang Zhimin for the ideal of "lovely China" in the heroic death with: "the enemy can only cut off our head, never shake our faith! Because the doctrine we believe in is the truth of the universe!" [1] to express his firm conviction that he was willing to bleed and die for the truth. As General Secretary Xi Jinping has said, "The CPC has been able to accomplish difficult tasks that have been impossible for all political forces since modern times, because it has always taken Marxism as its guide to action and continued to enrich and develop Marxism in practice." [3]

The CPC adheres to the basic tenets of Marxism, seeks truth from facts, and combines the basic tenets of Marxism with China's actual conditions and with the fine traditional Chinese culture. The theory of integrating the Two has helped adapt Marxism to China and The Times, giving rise to MAO Zedong Thought, Deng Xiaoping Theory, the Important Thought of Three Represents, the Scientific Outlook on Development, and Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, providing scientific theoretical guidance for the development of the Cause of the Party and the people. It is with the guidance of scientific truth that the Party can lead the people to achieve brilliant achievements in the revolution, construction and reform and opening up in each historical period. "What makes the CPC and socialism with Chinese characteristics good is, in the final analysis, Marxism works," Xi said. [4] One hundred years of Party history has fully proved that Marxism is a "right" theory with powerful power of truth and practice. As socialism with Chinese characteristics enters a new era, Marxist theory remains a powerful ideological weapon for us. We must continue to adapt Marxism to the Chinese context and adapt it to The Times, shine the light of truth on our way forward, and build up the strength of truth for China to become a modern socialist country.

3. The power of truth is the power of ideal belief

As the soul and banner of the Communist Party of China, Marxism has the power of ideal belief. The Communist Party of China takes Marxism as its guide to action and takes the realization of communism as its goal. General Secretary Xi Jinping pointed out, "The Communist Party of China is called the Communist Party because from the very day of its founding, our Party has established communism as its lofty ideal. The reason why our Party has been able to withstand setbacks and rise again and again is, in the final analysis, because our Party has lofty ideals and lofty pursuit." [4]

The revolutionary ideal is above heaven. Ideals and beliefs are the political soul of Chinese Communists. Once the fire of the ideal and belief of Chinese Communists is lit, it will never be extinguished and will generate tremendous spiritual strength. Over the past century, the CPC has gone through many setbacks and life and death. From its initial membership of more than 50 to today's largest ruling party in the world with more than 95 million members, the most fundamental reason is that under the guidance of Marxist scientific theories, the CPC has remained true to its original aspiration and unswervingly committed. Over the past 100 years, countless revolutionary ancestors have strived relentlessly towards the lofty ideal of communism and the great dream of national rejuvenation, writing the most magnificent epic in the thousands of years of Chinese history. History and reality have proved that ideal and faith are the "calcium" of the communist spirit. The Communist Party of China, with its ideals and convictions, is invincible.

"The light of the ideal will not die out; the light of faith will not die out". On our new journey to become a great modern country, we must pass on the flame of our ideals and convictions from generation to generation. Today, we are committed to our ideals and convictions because we are committed to Marxism and communism, to socialism with Chinese characteristics, and to realizing the Chinese dream of great national renewal.

4. The charm of truth and the power of ideal lie in the mind of "the great nation"

Populism is the most distinctive background of Marxism, and also its value. Armed with the theory of Marxism, the CPC always upholds the position of the people, cares about the greatness of the country, and takes as its goal the people's aspiration for a better life. The century-old history of our Party is a history of fulfilling the Party's original mission, and a history of the Party and the people being closely connected, breathing together, and sharing a common destiny. History has fully proved that "the country is the people and the people are the country. It is the hearts of the people that we fight and defend." [5] to one hundred, in seeks happiness for Chinese people, for the Chinese nation for revival in this way, the communist party of China in the history of the "I" must be successful and selfless dedication, "successful don't have to be in my" conquer, sheer struggle forward, led the Chinese people realized from rich, stand up to strong rise of the great leap.

5. Truth leads the age

To uphold truth and ideals in the new era means to uphold Marxist guiding ideology, arm our minds with Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, strengthen our belief in communism, strengthen our belief in socialism with Chinese characteristics and our confidence in realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, and integrate knowledge with action.

Shoulding the mission of The Times, the young Chinese in the new era need to consciously become firm believers and followers of Marxism, constantly draw scientific wisdom and theoretical strength from the basic principles of Marxism and the theoretical achievements of Sinicization of Marxism, strengthen "four self-confidence", and strive for the realization of lofty ideals and beliefs. By promoting, stick to the truth, adhere to the ideal spirit guide youth deep enlightenment lived up to the Chinese Marxism, Marxism, there is no the communist party of China, there would be no socialism with Chinese characteristics, there is no Chinese people a better life, and theory of firm confidence, consciously armed with the latest achievements in adapting Marxism to the mind, let the light of truth struggle away; We should guide young people to stick to their ideals, have lofty ideals in mind, and be firm in their common ideals. In the process of realizing the Chinese Dream, we should let our youth dream fly, and let our ideals create a better future. The hand holds the truth, the heart has the dream, the foot has the power. We should infuse the spirit of "upholding truth and ideals" into the blood of Chinese youth in the new era, nourish and inspire their spiritual world, guide them to build a solid foundation for their beliefs, keep the rudder of their thinking steady, and replenish their spiritual strength, so as to become "dream chasers" with lofty goals and strong aspirations.
